ABOUT THE PROJECT

We believe everyone has a creative side, in some cases it is on the surface and in others it is more hidden. We also believe that this creative side has more opportunities to sprout if the environment is favorable, just like a plant.

BricoJam arises from the need to raise awareness of the potential of the circular economy among young people and thus increase their environmental awareness.

The Eco-creative methodology that will be carried out during the training aims to put you into action, awaken your creative side and show you other ways of approaching projects, focusing on the power of the community.

During the exchange we will combine design activities, gender, group dynamics, debates, role-playing and also collective construction, in which we will use recovered materials, local resources and of course our imagination. We will build furniture by collective construction sessions with reused materials that will remain in Grañén for the enjoyment of its neighbors.

OTHER OBJECTIVES

- Promote creativity, manual skills and encourage teamwork.
- Highlight the value of the circular economy and its potential to generate changes in today's consumer society.
- Respect the environment and conscious consumption.
- Generate social and environmental commitments.
- Create multicultural and diverse links between participants and the environment.

MULTICULTURAL NIGHTS

Have you ever heard about intercultural evenings? In order to discover more about our different cultures, we are organising evening events to celebrate our diversity.

The point is to allow people from other cultures to discover yours. We will be able to present our country and culture through food, music, dancing, drinks, images, etc.

You are free to organise games, do a quiz or whatever you feel best! Don't forget to bring food, drinks and music so we can organise unforgettable international nights.
